

Snowstorm as Meteorologists Nail It – 02-13-2020

February 12th, the meteorologists at Dark Sky and the Weather Channel advertised 3-5' of snow overnight Wednesday and nearly 1" of rain on Thursday. They nailed it. We measured a clean 3" of snow on our driveway at 6 am Thursday. After breakfast, we took a walk around the land island behind our condo – a mile. Half-way along our walk, the city plow made his appearance as you can notice from the photos. Also included is a photo from 2/14 which shows all the snow removed from the trees behind our condo.
